

You're all set up!

Great job! Remember, you can edit anything you're just entered and add a new categories after on.

TOTAL PLANNED EXPENSES
US$ 3000

	Income . . . . .	US$5000.0
	Housing . . . . .	US$2000.0
	Food . . . . .	US$1000.0
	Life Style . . . . .	US$0.0
	Saving . . . . .	US$0.0

Ok

US$ 2000 left of income

TOTAL PLANNED EXPENSES

US$ 3000

-  Income . . . . . US$5000.0
-  Housing . . . . . US$2000.0
-  Food . . . . . US$1000.0
-  Life Style . . . . . US$0.0
-  Saving . . . . . US$0.0

NEXT UP – LIFESTYLE

From entertainment to healthcare, we all need it, and should plan for it as well.

Continue

US$ 3000 left of income

TOTAL PLANNED EXPENSES

US$ 2000

 Income	US$5000.0
 Housing	US$2000.0
 Food	US$0.0
 Life Style	US$0.0
 Saving	US$0.0

NEXT UP - FOOD

Food and consumable are usually our highest variable expenses, it's also the area where we can improve the most.

Continue

Income

Your regular income will be the amount you have to budget for. feel free to make an estimation as you can update this later.

Income

US$ 0

If you want to budget using only expenses, then go ahead and skip this step.

Continue

21:20

Budget: My budget 2 ▾

Start with the basics

We recommend using the same budget period as your regular income.

NAME

My Workspace

BUDGET

Weekly

Continue